For the transport of moisture-sensitive goods, such as lime, the railways introduced so-called "Lidded Freight Cars" in various designs from a very early stage. The freight car had the short 4 m wheel base that was typical for this period and had a maximum load of 17.5 t. In order to withstand this weight, the side panels and hinge lid were strengthened with prominent crossed beads.

LIMITED SPECIAL MODEL „CHRISTMAS 2022“: LEBKUCHEN-SCHMIDT – THE ORIGINAL FROM NUREMBERG

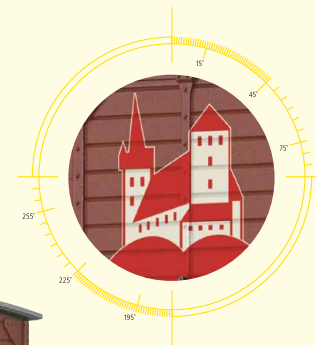

Nuremberg gingerbread is a world-famous specialty. They go back to Frankish monks who have been making this special pastry since the 14th century. The first known document entry of a gingerbread maker dates back to 1395. At that time, Nuremberg was an important point on various trade routes. In this way, many foreign spices such as allspice, cloves, cardamom, nutmeg and cinnamon found their way into the city. As well as rare ingredients such as almonds. In addition, there was a well-functioning beekeeper in the nearby Lorenzer Reichswald, which also ensured the supply of honey.
